The South-Carolina GAZETTE.

[Numb. 1920.] THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1772.

CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by T. POWELL & Co. at the Printing-Office near the EXCHANGE.

Mr. POWELL,

I Have but a ſhort Anſwer to THE FRIEND TO TRADE's laſt Letter; for to continue a Diſpute with a Writer of his very extraordinary Abilities, would not only be ſuperfluous and vain, but intruding on your Readers Time to no Manner of Purpoſe.

I eſteem myſelf very happy in having made Choice of a Signature that has given him an Opportunity of diſplaying his great Knowledge of Heathen Hiſtory, otherwiſe I am afraid he would have been entirely at a Loſs for a Subject.—Every one will own, that it is exactly ſuited to his Genius, which ſeems to delight in Something that no Human Eye can diſcover, or Underſtanding comprehend. Plain Senſe and Reaſon not allowing a ſufficient Latitude to his excurſive Abilities, Romance and Fable have therefore been called in to their Aſſiſtance; and being alſo ſenſible (for we will grant him Senſe in this Particular) "that Pomp and Splendor have a "mighty Effect upon weak Mortals," and that much of Human Imbecility is concealed by it—he therefore has clothed his Thoughts in a pompous and glittering Dreſs, the better to hide his Defects, and conceal (if poſſible) the Inſignificancy of his Ideas.

Thus much in Reference of the firſt Part of his Letter, in which he ſeems to have exhauſted all his Learning, and run to the full Extent of his Abilities.—The Remainder is of a very different Nature, and almoſt perſuades me to believe, that with his Learning he muſt alſo have bid adieu to his Senſe, at leaſt I am ſure he muſt to his good Manners. POPE obſerves,

All Fools have ſtill an Itching to deride,
And fain would be upon the laughing Side.

THE FRIEND TO TRADE ſeems to be one of thoſe; and, as I take it by this Part of his Letter, that Applauſe is his principal, if not only, Ambition, he does not appear to be over nice in his Choice of a Method to acquire it—otherwiſe he would hardly have deſcended ſo much from the Character of a Gentleman, and made Uſe of Expreſſions, witneſs his laſt Sentence, that ſavour ſo much of the Meridian of Billingſgate. When we find a Perſon, in this Manner, expreſſing himſelf in low and ſcurrilous Language, we may venture to conclude, that he has loſt Sight of his Argument: And as a Man, to ſave himſelf from Drowning, will catch at the ſlighteſt Reed, ſo he, who is a Candidate for popular Fame, will not ſcruple to embrace every Method, however mean and contemptible, to effect, if poſſible, a Completion of his Deſires.

Before I diſmiſs this Subject, I muſt take Notice of another of his Excellencies, and that is, his extreme Cleverneſs at wreſting a Meaning to his own Advantage—and where he meets with an Expreſſion, not exactly conformable to his Purpoſe, ſeems to account it no Kind of Injuſtice to make it ſo.—This, in his Examination of my Letter, he has very frequently been guilty of; and the Public, will from thence judge, whether he has given the true Meaning of ORESTES, and what Degree of Merit the Whole of the Performance intitles him to.

Your humble Servant, ORESTES.

Mr. POWELL,

I T ſurpriſed me greatly, to ſee in Mr. WELLS's laſt Gazette, that Corn, from being ſold for TWENTY SHILLINGS a Buſhel, was all at once advanced to TWENTY-SEVEN SHILLINGS and SIX-PENCE; on Account, as is ſuppoſed, of the great Scarcity of Proviſions in the Weſt-India Iſlands.—Much Regard, is undoubtedly due to the Neceſſities of our Neighbours; but ſtill it ſeems reaſonable, that a proper Regard ſhould be had to the People of this Province, more eſpecially to the Inhabitants of Charles-Town, by not permitting the Proviſion that is raiſed amongſt us, to be exported in ſuch Quantities, as to produce a Scarcity, and enhance the Price of it to ſo enormous a Rate, that the labouring People, out of the poor Pittance of their Earnings, ſhall not be able even to purchaſe a Buſhel of Corn, when all the other Expences of their Families are paid for.—I ſhall ſay nothing of People in middling Stations of Life, who are juſt able to bring the Year about by their Induſtry, without running in Debt; but, certainly it is a great Hardſhip on them, to be obliged to pay ſo advanced a Price for Corn, (and it may ſtill be much higher) which in ſo plentiful a Crop might well be ſold for TEN SHILLINGS the Buſhel.

I would aſk, whether there is not a Law, which inhibits the Exportation of Indian Corn when it is above FIFTEEN SHILLINGS a Buſhel? And if ſuch an Act of Aſſembly exiſts, why it ſhould be thus infringed with Impunity, whereby a Scarcity may be induced amongſt ourſelves, by allowing thoſe who purchaſe Proviſions for Exportation, to give ſuch a Price for Corn, as muſt greatly diſtreſs our own People, when they purchaſe this Article?—Every one here muſt remember, that Corn was ſold for TEN SHILLINGS, and TWELVE SHILLINGS and SIX-PENCE per Buſhel laſt Summer; and that by the Sring of this Year, it ſometimes roſe to THIRTY-FIVE and FORTY SHILLINGS, by the ſame Means of Exportation as are now purſuing.

We certainly have a Sufficiency of Proviſion at preſent, amongſt ourſelves, and probably ſome to ſpare, for the Relief of thoſe who are in Want—Let them be ſupplied by all Means; but then this ſhould be ſo regulated and furniſhed at the reaſonable Expence Proviſion may now be ſold for, that the Evils we wiſh to prevent to our Neighbours, may not in the End fall heavily on ourſelves.

NESTOR.

LONDON, AUGUST 10.

THE project of eſtabliſhing a new colony in the back parts of North America, has proved a bone of contention among the Miniſtry; they have long been growling at one another, and were very near coming to an open rupture.—'Tis ſaid the plan of the new ſettlement was artfully contrived by the Bedford faction, in order to out the Hibernian ſecretary of ſtate, who had raſhly declared, that if ſuch a plan was carried into execution, he would certainly reſign. This was the thing they wanted, and they accordingly took him at his word. The Bedfords next planned another arrangement in their own favour, as follows: Lord Gower was to be ſecretary of ſtate for the colonies in the room of Lord Hillſborough; the Duke of Grafton was to be preſident, of the council in the room of Lord Gower; and Lord Weymouth was to ſucceed the Duke of Grafton as privy ſeal. However all this Bedfordian arrangement has been over-ruled by the ſuperior influence of the Premier, who has got his kinſman, Lord Dartmouth, to be nominated to this department; in conſequence of which Lord Dartmouth is certainly to kiſs the King's hand in a day or two.

Lord Chatham is ſaid to have written to a Great Perſonage a long letter upon Eaſt-India affairs, ſhewing the abſolute neceſſity of taking the territorial affairs of India into the hands of the nation. The letter was ſubmitted to the peruſal of the Premier. Lord Camden aſſiſted his Lordſhip in drawing up the plan, which, it is ſaid, is perfect in its kind.

AUGUST 12.

This day the Right Hon. the Earl of Dartmouth kiſſed his Majeſty's hand on being appointed ſecretary of ſtate for the Colonies, as alſo firſt Lord of Trade, in the room of the Earl of Hillſborough.

A young lady poſſeſſed of a fortune of eight thouſand pounds, was adviſed to place it in the hands of Mr. Fordyce, till the ſtocks were more favourable for buying in, in which time he broke; the ſhock ſo immediately affected her mind, that ſhe went into her bed room and hanged herſelf.

What has not the extravagant diſſipation of one abandoned individual done! What puniſhment is ſevere enough for ſuch an offender? Is not the wretch hanged at Tyburn for a robbery, an immaculate being to this plunderer of life and ſociety?

AUGUST 14.

It is confidently aſſerted at the weſt end of the town, that the Queen of Denmark will not come to England, but will ſoon return to Copenhagen, as the King is fully convinced that ſhe is wholly innocent of every charge laid againſt her, and therefore is determined to be no longer governed by the Queen Dowager and her party, and as ſoon as the great offices of ſtate are filled up with his Majeſty's old friends, that the Queen will depart from Zell to Denmark.

A certain Lord, it is believed, has ſtill ſuch powerful influence in our Eaſtern affairs, that according as he wills, every eſſential ſtep will be taken.

It is confidently ſaid that more perſons than one will be appointed to go to India with the ſupervifors on the part of the King.

AUGUST 20.

The chief objection which Lord Hillſborough had to the intended ſettlement on the Ohio, was its inacceſſibility to the naval force of this kingdom, if ever the Coloniſts in that part, like thoſe of Boſton, ſhould preſume to diſpute the authority of Great-Britain; his Lordſhip declared himſelf ſenſible, that the mere refuſal of one particular ſettlement would by no means check the progreſs of American emigration; but to form a ſettlement which we were not able to command, he inſiſted, was repugnant to every idea of ſound policy, and would be productive of very dangerous conſequences to our poſterity.

There is no doubt that her Majeſty has happily advanced five months in her pregnancy.

Some of the great bankers in London are, we hear, eſtabliſhing county banks in various parts of the kingdom, for the convenience of large trading towns, where the buſineſs of diſcounting is very valuable.

AUGUST 22.

Thurſday laſt there was a full Board of Trade, at which the Earl of Dartmouth attended for the firſt time, and took the oaths and his ſeat.

Yeſterday a Nobleman who came over to execute a private commiſſion from the Emperor of Morocco, was introduced by the Earl of Rochford to his Majeſty.

Yeſterday morning a capital houſe in the linen trade ſtopt payment.

The credit of a great banking company in Scotland grows every day more dubious.

It is currently reported on 'Change, that Mr. Fordyce will certainly make his appearance in England ſome time in the beginning of next month.

AUGUST 26.

The laſt letters from Senegal mention, that his Excellency Charles O'Hara, the Governor, was juſt arrived there from a voyage, many miles up the river Gambia, to inſpect into the forts and factories on the ſaid river, and every thing was then in a perfect ſtate of tranquility on the coaſt.

They write from Holland, that the Dutch Eaſt-India Company have preſented an ample memorial to the States General, in which they complain of the encroachments of the Engliſh in Bengal, particularly of their engroſſing the ſaltpetre trade, which has always been a conſiderable branch of the Dutch commerce in India.

AUGUST 27.

The Lords of the Council who voted on the Ohio queſtion, which cauſed the Earl of Hillſborough's reſignation, were Lord Gower, (the Preſident) Lord Rochford, Lord Suffolk (the Secretaries of State) and Lord Falmouth, for the intended ſettlement.—Againſt it, Lord North, Lord Hillſborough, and Lord Barrington.

To the meaſure of annexing the territories of the Eaſt-India Company to the crown many objections are urged; and, firſt, that the power which they would throw into the already too weighty ſcale of regality, would make the Sovereign at all times too heavy for the conſtitution. If popular declaimers, however, are to be credited, the conſtitution is at this moment entirely under the command of the Prince, and therefore nothing farther can be apprehended from an increaſe of his influence. He can be but omnipotent in the ſtate, and if he be is ſo now, to argue againſt the annexing meaſure, is to oppoſe our intereſt, without gaining any point in favour of our liberties as a people.

The Eaſt-India leaders are now diſtracted much about the Superviſorſhip, deeming it equally unſafe to ſend or not to ſend ſuch a commiſſion to Bengal; on either hand, the dread of the continuance of old abuſes, or the introduction of new ones, and little hope of a reſpite from miſery, remain for the wretched inhabitants.

Many, however, think, that the two parties which now divide the Company are equally intereſted, and equally worthleſs; one is Lord Clive's, the other the ſervant's; each have their particular actions to defend; and the harmleſs Proprietors imagine they are promoting the general good, when they are ſimply acting as the dupes of their diſobedient plunderers.

AUGUST 24.

On the 19th of July, in the evening, a violent ſtorm fell at Wolfenbuttle, in Germany. Though it continued not above a quarter of an hour, it entirely deſtroyed all the hopes they had of a plentiful harveſt.

Extract of a letter from Dover, Auguſt 21.

"On Wedneſday evening arrived here the Right Hon. Sir Joſeph Yorke, one of the repreſentatives in parliament for this town and port, and was received with the uſual acclamations of joy. His Excellency will embark this day for Calais on his embaſſy for Holland, as will alſo his Excellency Prince Maſſerano, the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, on his way home."

It was laſt night reported that the Portugueſe have loſt ſix men of war and ſeven hundred men (by an earthquake at an iſland in the South Seas.

AUGUST 25.

This morning a very reſpectable body of merchants, connected with the trade of the Britiſh colonies, waited upon the Right Hon. the Earl of Hillſborough with an addreſs, in which they politely thanked him for the great attention which they had always received at his board while he was Secretary of State for America. They alſo bore teſtimony to his Lordſhip's ſolicitude for the proſperity of the mother-country and her dependencies, and concluded that they ſhould have felt his loſs very ſeverely if the talents and integrity of his ſucceſſor did not yield them an ample field of conſolation.

Lord Hillſborough ſets out for Ireland to-morrow, a veſſel is ordered to meet him at a particular ſeaport, from whence he embarks for his Iriſh eſtate, and we hear that great preparations are making in the northern part of the ſiſter kingdom to give him a moſt honourable reception.

It is a maxim in ethics, that the man who does not to the utmoſt of his power prevent an injury, commits it; on this principle the Britiſh government has much to anſwer for, which tolerates the barbarities of the Eaſt, when it is ſo notoriouſly able to hurl down inſtant vengeance on the delinquents.

So great is the paſſion for lands on the Miſſiſippi in North-America, that one petition only, now lying before the Privy-Council, has 180 names to it, many of them perſons of large fortune, who are already ſending to the neighbourhood of the Rhine and other parts of Germany for emigrants, which they are likely to collect in great numbers from the poverty of theſe countries.

So cultivated is the Spaniſh ſide of the Miſſiſippi (by the French indeed, who poſſeſſed the country till the late peace of Fountainbleau) that the dwelling-houſes and offices of the planters, which are built on the edge of the river, form a line above thirty miles in length. New-Orleans, which is the capital of the place, is a very elegant town, and has aſſemblies as well dreſſed in it, as can be met with in many parts of Old France, notwithſtanding dreſs conſtitutes a ſcience in their mother-country.

An officer of diſtinction ſays, he has ſat down to tables on the banks of the Miſſiſippi, conſiſting of two removes, with eighteen diſhes in each, and accompanied by a deſert that could not be purchaſed for twenty pounds.

The ſame officer reports, that the great miſtake of the Engliſh negotiators at the concluſion of the late peace, was their giving up New-Orleans, which may be conſidered as the key of the Miſſiſippi to the Spaniards; for had we retained it in our own hands, it would have always made us the arbiters of peace, and bound Spain to her good behaviour, in conſequence of the entrance which it opened into Mexico.

AUGUST 9.

The Notary Publics in London have, for theſe two months paſt, had ſix times the employment they were ever known to have. This is not ſurpriſing, when it is conſidered how greatly the late failures have affected payments in general; but what is very remarkable, great part of this extra employment conſiſts in nothing but notes of hand, which every lawyer ſays is an illegal act, and no man need pay the charge of it unleſs he pleaſes.

Extract of a letter from Madrid, July 18.

"Our Court has juſt received the very diſagreeable news of an univerſal riſing of the natives on the ſea-coaſts of Chili, who are greatly reinforced and ſupported by the brave people in the internal parts of that country. The Chileſians are the braveſt people on the continent, and ever had a moſt remarkable antipathy to the Spaniards, which made them cautious how they truſted the natives, who have before made attempts to recover their loſt liberties, but were always ſubdued by the Spaniards keeping poſſeſſion of the coaſts.

"The inſurrection that lately happened began at the town of Baldivia, where the gold mines are ſituated. It was thus: On the night of the 14th of May, a body of near ten thouſand Indians came to the mines, and fell upon the guards, whom they murdered, they then proceeded to ſet free the Negroes, but ſlaughtered all the Whites they came near, without mercy.—— After this action they proceeded to the town, but found the people were alarmed, and had made ſome preparations, having ſhut the inner gates, and pointed ſome guns on the walls, which they fired inceſſantly on the Indians, and did great execution. Finding themſelves not able to gain poſſeſſion of the inner town, they ſet fire to the ſuburbs and burnt them to the ground, in which were three fine churches, an hoſpital, and ſeveral religious houſes.

"Having vented their fury as far as in their power at Valdivia, and being joined by a number of Indian and Negro ſlaves that dwelt in the ſuburbs, they left a guard to prevent the Spaniards from eſcaping out of the town, and proceeded immediately to the town of Imperial, which they inveſted, but were obliged to raiſe the ſiege with precipitation. They marched off as if they intended to ſerve Villaria in the ſame manner. A veſſel was immediately ſent from Imperial with intelligence, and, when the advice came away for Madrid, an officer was preparing to march out of Lima at the head of 4000 men."

CRACOW (Poland) Aug. 2. We learn from Zeps, that freſh bodies of Auſtrian troops are daily entering this kingdom.

WARSAW (Poland) Aug. 8. The Courts of Vienna, Petersburgh, and Berlin, have reſolved to hold at Koningſberg a ſecond congreſs, wherein the affairs and intereſts of Poland are to be ſettled; and the points which ſhall be agreed on, are to be ſent to the miniſters-plenipotentiaries at the congreſs near Poſnani, to be inſerted in the articles of the peace negotiated there between Ruſſia and the Porte. M. de Saldern is appointed plenipotentiary from Ruſſia to this new congreſs; and the Preſident Domhart, and General Stufferheim, will aſſiſt thereat, in quality of miniſters from his Pruſſian Majeſty.

COPENHAGEN (Denmark) Aug. 11. The commiſſion appointed to examine into the innovations made by the preceding miniſtry, hath approved of the creſtion of the Court and City Tribunal, which was eſtabliſhed under the adminiſtration of Count de Struenſee. Conſequently, his Majeſty hath formally confirmed that tribunal, and a hotel is ordered to be purchaſed for the members thereof to aſſemble in.

VIENNA (Germany) Aug. 12. The Emperor ſet out early laſt Saturday morning, with very few attendants, on a little tour incognito. We know not yet whither his Imperial Majeſty is gone, or when he will return.

BERLIN (Germany) Aug. 16. The King ſet out laſt night for Sileſia.

LONDON, AUGUST 31.

There is much good ſenſe in a certain gentleman's ſatire upon the modern race of writers ſent out in the India company's ſervice.—They ought to be induſtrious, pains-taking, moderate young men, who, by a ſlow, but regular gradation, ſhould be content to aſcend by degrees into places of honour. They are the younger branches of opulent families, bred in all the delicacies of refined luxury, and permitted by Mama to viſit India, only on condition of their returning with a Nabob's fortune in the courſe of a very few years. How they are to procure this fortune is eaſily conceived; and it cannot be doubted but that ſuch effeminate ſtriplings will give looſe to every degenerate ſentiment that can diſgrace the human heart, whilſt it contributes to gratify their paſſions, or glut their avarice. This opens a door to every ſpecies of corruption and abuſe, and upon this principle the many atrocious villainies, committed by thoſe who diſgrace the company in the capacity of its ſervants, may eaſily be accounted for.

The King George, Curling, from South-Carolina, is arrived at Cowes with the loſs of her mainmaſt.

PETERSBURGH (Ruſſia) Auguſt 4. Our fleet in the Archipelago, and that in the Black-Sea, will be reinforced with twenty men of war, and a conſiderable number of troops. Orders have been ſent to Count Alexis Orlow to put to ſea immediately from Leghorn with all the men of war and tranſports which are there, and to ſteer for the Archipelago, in order to be ready to continue the war with vigour both by land and ſea, in caſe a peace ſhould not be concluded by the expiration of the armiſtice.

Our merchants promiſe themſelves great advantages from the paſſage which has been diſcovered from this empire to the Eaſt-Indies.

ALTONA (Germany) Auguſt 22. The letters from Stockholm confirm the news of a rebellion in Sweden. It firſt broke out at Chriſtianſtadt, where the inhabitants accuſe the ſtates of oppreſſing the people, and not uſing means to prevent the great ſcarcity of proviſions. Their cry is, "One God, and one King." Being joined by the gariſon, they have ſeized on the Arſenal, and confined ſeveral officers who refuſed to come into their meaſures. Our letters add, that at the departure of the poſt the gates of Chriſtianſtadt were ſhut, and that Prince Charles of Sweden was marching that way at the head of a regiment and ſome pieces of artillery.

BRUSSELS (the capital of Brabant) Auguſt 25. We have had in this country the moſt plentiful harveſt that has been known for theſe ſeveral years. The wheat, rye, and moſt part of the oats, are already got in, ſo that we may expect ſome diminution of the prices of grain in general, which has been augmenting for theſe ſeven years paſt.

PARIS (France) Auguſt 27. Our ſhips from the Iſle of France have brought intelligence that the hurricane which ruined that colony the end of February laſt, had alſo deſtroyed the ſhips which were cruiſing near the iſles of Bourbon, Madagaſcar, &c. Our Miniſtry have given orders to fit out immediately five ſhips of war to depart for that ſtation.

LONDON, SEPTEMBER 1.

A letter from the Hague, dated Aug. 25, ſays, "Sir Joſeph York arrived here this night, very late."

Yeſterday a commiſſion paſſed the Great Seal, appointing the Lord Chancellor, and the other Miniſters of ſtate, together with William Earl of Dartmouth, Soame Jenyns, Edward Elliott, Lord Robert Spencer, George Greville, Bamber Gaſcoyne, William Jolliffe, Eſqrs. and Lord Garlies, to be Commiſſioners for promoting the trade of Great-Britain, and inſpecting and improving the plantations in America, and elſewhere, with a revocation of the laſt commiſſion.

Alſo paſſed the Great Seal a reverſionary grant of the office of ſecretary of his Majeſty's province of New-York, to William Knox, Eſq; during his life, on the death, or any ſooner determination of the intereſt therein, of George Clark, Eſq; the preſent ſecretary.

Alſo paſſed the ſeal a proclamation, promiſing a reward of 500l. for the diſcovering and apprehending any of the perſons concerned in burning the Gaſpee ſcooner in Providence River, on the 10th of June laſt; alſo a further reward of 500l. and his Majeſty's pardon to any of the offenders, for apprehending each of the ringleaders.

No leſs than eight commiſſions of bankruptcy paſſed the great ſeal yeſterday. One of them is againſt a perſon who is ſaid to have ſtopped for near 300,000l.

The commercial ſky (we hear, with great concern) is again overcaſt, and the Gazette is waited for impatiently by all who are extenſively concerned in buſineſs. The pillars of one great houſe are ſaid to totter at this moment, and if it falls, as the ruin muſt be wide, many of courſe muſt ſuffer in the calamity.

Extract of a letter from an Engliſhman in Paris, Aug. 27.

"Within few a days near 7000 women of the town have been confined in different hoſpitals and priſons—when cured, deſtined for Corſica and the Weſt-India iſlands. The police have reſolved not to ſuffer any ladies of pleaſure in Paris, but what are acknowledged by ſome Abbeſs to be of her convent, and phyſicians are paid to viſit daily thoſe virtuous retreats."

SEPTEMBER 2.

A letter from Hamburgh, dated Aug. 24, ſays, "The 22d inſtant departed from hence for Copenhagen, Mr. Woodford, as Envoy to the Daniſh Court, and Mr. Mathias ſucceeds him as Miniſter to the circle of Lower Saxony and the Hans Towns."

Extract of a letter from Hamburgh, Auguſt 25.

"The day before yeſterday two expreſſes were diſpatched from Stockholm, and paſſed through this city, one in the forenoon, the other about ſix o'clock in the evening; in their way through our city they left ſeveral letters behind them; one of them is ſaid to be diſpatched for France, the other for England; each of them left a letter at the Miniſter Monſieur House's: but it is no longer a ſecret here. The following is the intelligence they brought: "The four great cities, namely, Chriſtianſtadt, Joenkjoeping, Landſcrona and Gothenburg, have declared his Majeſty the King of Swedon as their abſolute Sovereign. On the 13th of this month, Prince Charles, who was then at Schonen, immediately put himſelf at the head of the troops and the militia of Landſcrona, and Prince Frederick Adolphus did the ſame at Gothenburg. Theſe two Princes joined together, with an army of about 16,000 men, and marched before the walls of Stockholm; in their march they declared every where the King to be abſolute, and on their arrival at Stockholm they demanded their princely rights, which have been limited and oppreſſed by the preſent deputies of the ſtates; and they inſiſt that the deputies do recall the late act, called The Aſſurance of the King, in which is Majeſty is limited in a manner not to be ſuffered by an anointed King." The private letters received from thence ſince that date, differ only in one article; ſome ſay that his Majeſty immediately left Stockholm, and retired to Joenkjoeping to join his troops there, in order to force the ſtates to diſcharge him of his oath of coronation; but others ſay, that his Majeſty kept himſelf very ſnug at Stockholm till the army came before the walls, when he communicated his deſign to the ſtates; and after a reſiſtance, which was made by a great part of the clergy, and ſome of the nobles, they found themſelves obliged to diſcharge his Majeſty of his oath, and to declare him an abſolute Sovereign. It is remarkable, that no reſiſtance at all was made by the other two ſtates of the peaſants and burghers. Other letters ſay, that this important revolution has already been publiſhed in a manifeſto."

ST. JAMES'S, Sept. 1. The King has been pleaſed to grant unto James Williams and Francis North, Eſqrs. the office of Receiver-General of all his Majeſty's revenues within the colony and dominions of Virginia.

LISBON (Portugal) July 24. A Moor, who is ſettled at Eſtramadura, has made a diſcovery of one of the aſſaſſins who fired upon his Majeſty in 1758, while he was in his chariot, and he is apprehended. His name is Joſeph Policarpe, and 'tis hoped he will make a full diſcovery of all his accomplices. The Moor, for his information, is to be dignified with a title, and to get a preſent of 200,000 reals.

LONDON, SEPTEMBER 3.

The ſlow progreſs of the parliamentary enquiry into the malverſations of India, is ſaid to ſpring from a political motive in government, that the diſorder of the company's affairs may induce it to make a voluntary offer of its territories to the nation, and to ſolicit a ſubſtitutional fund in the room of that ſtock which is now ſo precarious a property to the owners.

It is the univerſal opinion of all ſenſible men, that buying out the intereſt of the Eaſt-India company in Aſia, would be one of the moſt fortunate circumſtances which could either happen to the kingdom or the proprietors; yet the Miniſtry muſt not ſeem deſirous of the meaſure, as in that caſe the people would inſtantly ſuſpect its utility, and clamour againſt it as a moſt dangerous innovation on their liberties.

We have many inſtances where the property of public bodies has been bought up for the ſervice of the ſtate, and this of the Eaſt-India company ſeems one of the moſt neceſſary to be ſo purchaſed; becauſe abſtracted from the diſorders which prevail in Britiſh Aſia, and the everlaſting ſquabbles for the direction, the peace of this kingdom is at the mercy of the ſervants abroad, and a ſingle factor, perhaps, has it in his power to involve England in a war with the Dutch or the French, which may coſt us many millions to terminate with reputation.

The commiſſion of ſuperviſorſhip is a meaſure which cannot be legally eſtabliſhed to the full extent propoſed, without the ſanction of an act of parliament; to be unlimited, it muſt have a power of puniſhing offenders capitally; yet no charter privileges whatever can give an authority over the life of a Britiſh ſubject; the King by his charter cannot beſtow a right which he does not poſſeſs; he cannot by his own will put a ſubject to death; the laws only have this right, and a law therefore muſt be enacted to give an equal right to the India company, before ſuch a juriſdiction can be legally exerciſed.

The friends of government have, we hear, been requeſted earneſtly not to interfere in the Eaſt-India diſputes, as repeated experience amply convinces the Miniſtry, that nothing promotes their views ſo much as an appearance of neutrality.

The Miniſtry are ſo ſenſible of this circumſtance, that Lord North being lately aſked which way Mr. Wilkes's election to the mayoralty could be prevented, replied, "That if it was a matter of the leaſt ſignification who was Mayor, there was a very obvious method of defeating his election." "How ſo," demanded a Great Perſonage, "Why, Sir (returned the Miniſter) by ſending a letter into the city, deſiring our friends to ſupport him; for ſuch is the diſpoſition of the people, that they will even ſacrifice their own wiſhes, if they think ſuch a ſacrifice any way likely to oppoſe the views of government."

A late ſecretary to a patriotic club, who eloped with his ward, exerted every art, we hear, to get her brother into his power, as the young lady is next heir to an immenſe property, but the other guardians interpoſed in time, and numbers ſay very happily for the ſafety of the young gentleman.

A commiſſion of oyer and terminer yeſterday paſſed the Great Seal, authorizing and empowering the Governors of New-York and Connecticut, and others named therein, to try any perſon or perſons that may be taken in conſequence of the proclamation iſſued for apprehending any that were concerned in plundering and burning the Gaſpee ſcooner.

SEPTEMBER 4.

A letter from Stockholm, dated Auguſt 22, ſays, "It was agreed upon in Pleno laſt Wedneſday, to give notice to all the corn-merchants, that no duty whatever ſhall be paid on the importation of grain 'till July 1775."

A letter from an Engliſh gentleman near Dijon in Burgundy, to a gentleman in town, has the following paragraph:—The diſtreſs of this unhappy country ſeems rather to increaſe than diminiſh: A few days ago, no perſon being ſeen for ſome days to go in or out of a houſe in this neighbourhood, the door was at length forced open, and a woman and her two children were found ſtarved to death!——He adds, "This is but one inſtance, out of many, of what the oppreſſed, wretched inhabitants of this country ſuffer from their tyrant maſters, in a region not inferior to any in Europe for yielding every bleſſing and comfort of life."

Extract of a letter from Copenhagen, Auguſt 28.

"In one of our public papers, called The Addreſſing Paper, an unknown perſon addreſſed himſelf to the King, aſking, "Where he muſt addreſs himſelf to ſhew the King that he can bring half a million of dollars per annum to the Royal Treaſury, without a ſingle farthing taken from the ſubjects, without expoſing himſelf to the danger of being baniſhed for it." This queſtion found the ſecond day an anſwer, telling him he might direct himſelf to the Board of Finances; but he wrote the day after to the King, and told his Majeſty, that if his Miniſtry were deſirous to know his plan, his Majeſty, it was hoped, would be pleaſed to appoint a commiſſion for it of ſuch members who are not in his ſervice at all."

DANTZICK (Poland) Aug. 25. The Pruſſians have juſt forbidden all the inhabitants of Poliſh Pruſſia to pay, for the future, the capitation, or any other kind of contribution, to the troops of the Republic, under pain of paying the ſame a ſecond time, and being ſeverely puniſhed.

WARSAW (Poland) Aug. 28. Notwithſtanding the orders lately given for numbering the inhabitants of the provinces occupied by the troops, the operations relative thereto are ſuſpended. Without doubt, the iſſue of the congreſs will be waited for, leſt by thus taking poſſeſſion, the Turks may be rendered leſs inclined to make the ſacrifices exacted of them.

LONDON, SEPTEMBER 5.

A variety of letters by yeſterday's French mail confirm the report of a very great houſe having failed in Cadiz to the amount of 8,000,000 of dollars and upwards; that is to ſay, nearly two millions ſterling.

Extract of a letter from the frontiers of Turky, Aug. 12.

"The Porte does not appear diſpoſed to conſent to the independency of the Crimea, nor to any ceſſion of importance. The army of the Grand Vizir is reinforced every day, and is now in a condition to command reſpect to the power of the Sultan. The Grand Vizir hath declared, that he will oppoſe, at the riſque of his head, a peace diſhonourable to the empire; and Oſman Effendi hath proteſted, that he will ſign no articles that ſhall be propoſed contrary to the ancient treaties, if they tend to affect any part of the Grand Signor's poſſeſſions."

Yeſterday arrived a mail from South Carolina, brought by the Sandwich packet-boat, Nottingham, in five weeks and three days to Falmouth.

His Majeſty has appointed Robert Chriſtian, Eſq; of Antigua, to be Judge of the Admiralty Court of the ſaid iſland.

The receſſes of the ſeveral great boards in the various departments of Government are much complained of by many people, as they put a ſtop to many eſſential meaſures; the deſign, for inſtance, of the new ſettlement on the Ohio, which created the late revolution in the American ſecretaryſhip of ſtate, being neceſſarily poſtponed, though abſolutely determined upon, 'till the meeting of the Lords of Trade in next November.

Others ſay, that the Lords of Trade have nothing farther to do in the new ſettlement on the Ohio; as they have already given their opinion, which is againſt it; and that the latter now reſts entirely with the King and Council. "Be that as it may (ſays the correſpondent who has favoured us with the foregoing paragraph) the receſs of Government ſomewhere is the cauſe of delaying a meaſure which is acknowledged to be of the utmoſt utility."

As our correſpondent ſays ſo much on the buſineſs of receſſes, we think it merely juſt to obſerve, that the receſſes of miniſters from the immediately active duties of their employments are ſeldom any relief from fatigue, as their time is amply taken up in theſe intervals, in the conſideration of new plans, the reviſion of the old ones, the diſpatching of ſuitors, and the preparing of bills for parliament. The queſtion therefore ſolely is, whether the ſchemes which occupy their hours of ſeeming retirement, are not as neceſſary as the ſettlement on the Ohio; and we cannot but anſwer in the affirmative, if we ſuppoſe the King's ſervants either poſſeſſed of common honeſty or common underſtanding. Beſides, a few months delay can be attended with no bad conſequences in the one, but in the other may be productive of innumerable difficulties.

Lord Gower's abſence, when the late change took place in the Board of Trade, or rather in the American ſecretaryſhip of ſtate, has been wondered at in the news-papers, but very abſurdly; becauſe he had nothing to do officially in the change, and as Preſident of the Council, knew of it long before it was carried into execution.

It is exceedingly whimſical that though the Engliſh conſider themſelves as the only free nation in Europe, every other is equally captivated with its conſtitution. The Ruſſians, whom we repreſent as miſerable ſlaves, depoſed their Prince to maintain their rights; and the Poles are at this moment glorying in the full poſſeſſion of their liberty, though three different armies, belonging to different Princes, are hourly dictating death through that unfortunate country.

The ſtate of the Poliſh gentry, who are at this moment ſcattered in a miſerable exile, through the principal cities of the continent is truly deplorable; the long civil diſſentions have entirely exhauſted all their ready money, and no returns are now to be expected from their eſtates. Their country is almoſt wholly in the hands of ſtrangers, and they ſee, though too late, that it is better even to have a deſpotic Prince of their own, than to be under the government of a deſpotic enemy.

The ſcarcity of money, we hear, is ſo exceſſive, even in the neighbourhood of the great cities in Poland, that a fine horſe is chearfully ſold for a ducat; the edible animals, however, are in a manner eaten up by the various armies. The grounds, likewiſe, remains uncultivated, and all the horrors of a ſpeedy famine threaten, with the calamities of civil war, to complete the deſtruction of the wretched inhabitants.

The Boſton Patriots are again amuſing themſelves in fomenting a quarrel with the mother-country; the crown has, it ſeems, lately made its Governors judiciouſly independent on the American aſſemblies. This has greatly nettled the Fabii and Decii of Maſſachuſetts-Bay; they inſiſt that the King's maintaining the Governor's eſtabliſhment, is an invaſion of their conſtitution, and they have ſpiritedly voted the Engliſh miniſters, who gave that advice, little leſs than traitors to the crown, and enemies to the people.

One would imagine, at the firſt glance, that the Boſton Patriots ought to rejoice, at being exonerated from the expence of the Governor's eſtabliſhment; but the truth is, while the Governor was dependent upon them, they actually were governors themſelves. If he refuſed to paſs ſuch bills as they ordered, they refuſed to allow him any ſalary; ſo that he was generally ſtarved into compliance, and the officers of the crown obliged, in moſt things, to counteract the very views of his maſter.

The people of Boſton lay great ſtreſs on their charters derived from the crown, as if a Britiſh parliament had not a legal right to annul all charters prejudicial to the intereſts of England. If the King's acts are to bind this nation, the Pope may lay a claim with as much propriety, to the crown of England, for it was ſolemnly ſurrendered to him by our John, and received again as the gracious donative only of the Papacy.

The people of Maſſachuſetts Bay ſhould conſider, that it is the obvious intereſt of the Colonies to be ſubject to the Crown of Great-Britain, and not to the Perſon of the King; for in the laſt caſe, they will have a Sovereign without a Protector, and be, like Hanover at preſent, obliged to ſtand upon their own bottom againſt all the attacks of their enemies: whereas in the firſt, the Britiſh nation will be their guardian, and defend them in the juſt poſſeſſion of their liberties.

The Commiſſion-Court, appointed to try the act of rebellion lately committed in New-England, by the burning of his Majeſty's ſloop the Gaſpee, gives great offence to the friends of Boſton in this country; and we may therefore imagine, that when the news of it reaches the ſaints of that city, they will immediately enter into reſolutions, declaring their privileges abſolutely ſuperior to the royal prerogative.

Nothing is more cruel in theſe times of diſtreſs, when public credit is ſo inſecure, as inſinuating a doubt with reſpect to the ſolvency of particular houſes; ſuch doubts may occaſion a run upon many reſpectable merchants, who otherwiſe were well able to ſtand their ground, and reduce them in a moment from a ſtate of affluence to a degree of the greateſt neceſſity.

From what we have ſaid in the foregoing paragraph, we would by no means ſay, that one friend ſhould not give another intimation of any man's circumſtances, with whom he ſuppoſes him connected; but then he ſhould ſpeak upon certain grounds, and not conjecturally, as the conſequences of his kindneſs to one man, may be the certain ruin of many other families.

DUBLIN, Auguſt 29. A few days ago was married at Sligo, William Mooney, tobacco-ſpinner, aged 18, to the widow Vincent, aged 105.

SUPPLEMENT to the South-Carolina GAZETTE.

NATIONAL CHARACTERS.

THE Turk is a lover of reſt; ſeated upon a ſofa with his pipe, he will continue in that exerciſe ſix or ſeven hours without intermiſſion; or elſe ſhut up in the ſeraglio amongſt his miſtreſſes, he will neglect affairs of the utmoſt importance, to indulge himſelf in that volumptuouſneſs.

The Arab is fond of his horſe, almoſt to a degree of infatuation: when the weather will permit, he is continually hunting; when at home, fretful; ſhunning the ſociety of his family, and ſooner chuſes to be along with his hunter than his children.

A Frenchman's love is principally directed to himſelf. So far from being a lover of reſt, he ſeldom chuſes to ſtand ſtill. He is fond of dreſs, and perpetually boaſting of his amours.

A Spaniard is jealous of his honours; brave, faithful, patient in adverſity, capable of enduring every fatigue, and romantic in his projects.

A German is ever ſtudious in the ſecrets of nature, indefatigable in his purſuits after chymiſtry, and is indefatigable in drinking.

The Dutch are pack-horſes in trade, who plod on in one track; ſtrangers to the ſweets of a ſcientific life, and unreliſhing the nice works of genius and art.

The Italians are revengeful by nature, and politicians by habit.

The Portugueſe inſincere and bigots.

Now if I was to aſk an impartial obſerver of us, which of the characters was moſt like our own; he would ſay, he had ſeen an Engliſhman act all but the laſt.

Are not my countrymen as fond of Tobacco as the Turks? Will they not ſit as many hours ſmoaking, as any Mahometan? and will they not be as much miſled by common miſtreſſes at a bagnio, as any turband-wearer in his ſeraglio?

Will they not, like Arabs, neglect their families for hunting matches? and do they not value their horſes more than they do their wives?

Are they not, like Frenchmen, ſelf-lovers, vain of dreſs, and great talkers of their ſucceſs with women?

Like Spaniards they are brave, faithful, patient, and have conſtitutions capable of enduring the moſt extreme fatigues; are romantic in their projects, and will ruſh into dangers for the ſake of glory.

They are as curious as Germains in prying into the firſt workings of creation; and as to drinking, I believe they'll take the field againſt any nation.

Yet we are as great drudges in trade as Dutchmen; almoſt as revengeful as Italians; and as to our being politicians—mercy upon us! TANTARABOBUS.
